

GEORGE WASHINGTON bade farewell to Revolutionary War officers as he ended his military career. Ceremony was held in Fraunces Tavern, New York.

JAMES MONROE was a lieutenant colonel in Revolution. He served as Secretary of War before becoming President.

MILITARY BACKGROUNDS OF PRESIDENTS

The 32 men who have been President can be divided as follows as far as military experience is concerned:

With
George Washington
James Madison
James Monroe
Andrew Jackson
William H. Harrison
Zachary Taylor
Franklin Pierce
Abraham Lincoln
Ulysses S. Grant
Rutherford B. Hayes
James A. Garfield
Benjamin Harrison
William McKinley
Theodore Roosevelt

Horry S. Truman

Without John Adams Thomas Jefferson John Q. Adams Martin Van Buren John Tyler James K. Polk Millard Fillmore James Buchanan Andrew Johnson Chester A. Arthur Grover Cleveland William H. Taft Woodrow Wilson Warren G. Harding Calvin Coolidge Herbert Hoover

Franklin D. Roosevelt

OUR MILITARY PRESIDENTS

By William J. Moyer

WHEN Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower tossed his hat into the presidential ring—or permitted it to be tossed in for him—a controversial subject was ignited that is certain to continue until the Republican convention and, if he is nominated, until election day.

It will be debated from drawing rooms to the corner saloon whether or not a military man should be President.

Probably the first question to come up will be:

What is meant by a "military man"? Is he one who has had top-level military experience? Or is the label attachable only to professional soldiers?

If a military man is one whose prominence is due to military experience, Gen. Eisenhower and his backers have plenty of precedence in his behalf. Of the 32 men who have been President, 15—or 47 per cent—had military experience which, at least, was worthy of

Following the Revolutionary War, the country elected a military leader for its first President—George Washington—whose exploits and career are too well known to recount here.

mention in their biographies.

After John Adams and Thomas Jef-(Continued on Page 15)

"Bravo for
TRISCUIT wafers!
Sparkly whole wheat flavor that calls for encores! So delightfully crisp! Fit for fanciest fare or midnight munching.
Get TRISCUIT they go with everything!"

Served any way – whole wheat, crisped and salted TRISCUIT wafers are wonderful!

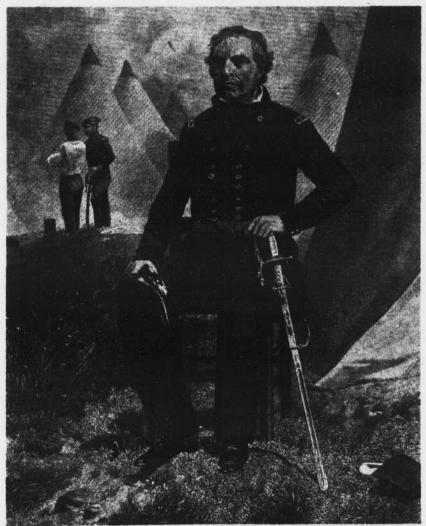

NATIONAL BISCUIT COMPANY

QUADS POSE FOR PICTURE OF HEALTH

Asked why her famous quads were so big and strapping at six months, Mrs. N. Brown of Fargo, North Dakota, said: "Mainly because of their Carnation Evaporated Milk formula." Like so many mothers, Mrs. Brown's doctor advised her to _ use Carnation. You see, doctors know Carnation is one milk that's absolutely safe and uniform ... processed with prescription accuracy. Any wonder 8 out of 10 mothers who feed Carnation say, "My doctor recommended it"? So don't you be satisfied with lesser-known brands. Ask your doctor about Carnation ... the world's favorite milk...the milk every doctor knows. And like millions of mothers, use Carnation for cooking and "creaming" coffee. Adds extra richness and flavor at such little cost.

ZACHARY TAYLOR once disregarded President Polk's orders to stay on defensive in Mexican War; defeated Santa Anna at Buena Vista, ending the war in northern province.

WASHINGTON, D. C., MARCH 2, 1952-Page 13

Forbidden Reds for Your Lips by TABU

Laden with the "forbidden fragrance" too

Gorgeous, glamorous, distinctive . . . these Tabu lipsticks by Dana. They dress your lips in nine exciting, fashion-right shades . . indelible as lipstick should be. SINGA-PORE . . sparkling true red. HAVANA . . red whispering of soft, romantic blue. NASSAU . . red with rose undertone. BARCELONA . . vivacious red. BOLIVIA . . dark, dramatic red. RIO . . laden with warm fuchsia. HONOLULU . . perfect accent for smart navies and blacks. ARGENTINE . . sultry deep red. BERMUDA . . light red.

Save your beautiful 24-carat gold-plated Tabu lipstick case ... buy handy, economical Tabu lipstick refills. 75¢ (plus tax).